Dear Sandra,

I'm sorry I am only just answering your email asking for an update on my visit to the Mokhethoaneng Aci School. I did not access email while on the Garden Tour and so am only just catching-up.

Thanks to Paul, Vanessa and their staff, the visit was superb. It was good to see that the pump has been used so much that the paint has been worn off the upper surface. The water was clear, cold and soft to drink – better than the water in my local town as I told our Mayor!

The staff at the school and the pupils made me most welcome. They showed me how they worked the pump, the choir sang and others put on some local dances including one from the pre-school children.

The day before we went out to site Paul and his staff showed me in detail how the pump worked which, as a retired engineer, I found most interesting.

My Rotary Club were most interested to hear about my visit and some neighbouring Clubs have asked for a talk of my experience. Our local schools who, you may remember, contributed significant funds were delighted.

Kind regards,
Brian
